

That Kinda Party

© 2012 John J. Freeman (BMI)

Could you please pull your teeth out of my neck, baby
I didn't know it was that kinda party
I took my chances, and I think I might have made a mistake
It's just your party looked so inviting
And I couldn't help it, and I didn't fight it
Now I'm going down a road I don't know if I should take

I don't want immortality, even if I knew that you'd stay with me
And give me ten thousand years of all the loving that a fella could take
I don't want to make history in a world I see is leaving me
With one more really hard decision to make

Because I'm liking that ass, and I'm liking the style
And I'm liking the way that you look when you smile
And I'm thinking I might be staying a while
But I can't even remember my name
I can't even remember why I came

Could you please pull your claws out of my back, baby
I didn't know it would get this crazy
I never thought I'd have to say that to a girl like you
It's just you look at my with those eyes
And you know it makes me paralyzed
And I think I'm about to do anything you want me to do

Because I'm liking that ass, and I'm liking the style
And I'm liking the way that you look when you smile
And I'm thinking I might be staying a while
But I can't even remember my name
I can't even remember why I came

Why does it feel so good?
I can't stop, I thought I could.
At least I thought I would.

Could you please pull your teeth out of my neck, baby
I didn't know it was that kinda party
I took my chances, and I think I might have made a mistake
